Annual Meeting Of United Church Held Monday

Various Reports Submitted Reveal Church Had a Very Successful Year; Officers
Re-Elected.

The congregation of St. Paul's church held their annual meeting in the church on the evening of Feb. 5 with the pastor, Rev. G. A. Kettly, presiding. The members joined in the singing of a hymn to open the meeting. The pastor read a few verses of scripture from the book of Acts before leading the meeting in prayer.

The financial report was first presented and showed a very successful year.

The Sunday school is to be commended on the fine report its secretary, Mr. Allan, and superintendent, Mr. Dickenson, were able to present. There is a fine Sunday school attendance, as well as splendid donations, which is encouraging for those who strive to bring the young people their spiritual training.

The Ladies Auxiliary presented the report for their record year and they are to be congratulated on their efforts during 1944.

The report of the Evening Auxiliary showed that its members are willing workers. Besides giving financial aid to the missionary society, the auxiliary donated a hand-made layette to the Cold Lake hospital, for which they received a kind letter of thanks.

The Women's Missionary Society keeps up its never failing efforts, and presented a splendid financial report. They sent a bale of clothing, valued at $25, to a needy district during the year, in addition to $125 to the WMS.

A group of our young members have found much pleasure in writing letters to the boys overseas in the services and helping keep them up to date on interesting news.

The senior CGIT group, under the leadership of Mrs. Kettly, who has recently been assisted by Miss Joan MacQuarrie, showed a banner year, as did also the report of the class under the leadership of Miss Rita Ash.

There are the boys groups of Explorers and Trail Rangers, under Mr. Kettly as their leader, who showed splendid reports for the year, the Explorers having come much above their quota in a donation to the Boys' Work Board.

After the presentation of reports came the election of officers for the Board of Church Managers. The terms of Mr. Rippon, Mr. Allan, Ray Spillers, Mrs. Dunlop and Mrs. Holmes continue through 1945. Of the retiring officers, Mr. Cousins, Mr. Dickenson, Mr. MacKinnon and Mrs. Ferguson were re-elected for 1945-46 terms.

Before the meeting adjourned, a vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Cousins and the choir, the organists, Corinne Fraser and Isabel Ewing, Sunday school staff, Ladies Auxiliary, to Mr. D. Hoyle and Miss W. Dunlop for their assistance in reproducing letters, etc., and to the Editor of The Journal for publishing free notes for the church and church organizations.

The evening closed with the members retiring to the club room, where the Ladies Auxiliary served a delicious luncheon.

G. E. Elkington Entertained Lions With Local Movie Scenes

Showed Where Crows' Nest Pass is a Scenic Wonderland; Lions Sponsored Ladies' Night.

On Monday last the Lions club sponsored a Valentine Party at which they were guests to their wives and girl friends and also Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Elkington, of Fernie, Mr. Elkington being general manager of the East Kootenay Power Co.

Lions Stuart Murdoch and Harry Weltons had a very good program lined up, which kept the gathering in hilarious laughter the greater part of the evening.

Lions John Van Maaron and Jim Cousins attempted to dress their "ladies" brought forth uproarious laughter. A quiz contest was won by Lonsess Mrs. S. Murdoch and Lion Chris Rogers, each being on their toes when it came to answering a number of stiff questions.

Following a turkey supper the gathering sat back to enjoy movie scenes taken in the Crows' Nest Pass and in the interior of British Columbia and central Alberta by Mr. Elkington, who has made colored photography his hobby.

The first movies shown proved that the Crows' Nest Pass is truly a scenic wonderland. He showed scenes in and around Fernie, as well as scenes of Sentinel with the majestic Crows' Nest mountain predominating. Numerous scenes showed exceptionally good blending of color that caused many admiring remarks.

In addition to the scenic pictures he showed movies of Their Majesties' visit to Calgary and Banff in May, 1939. These were most interesting and depicted the pomp and ceremony which preceded Their Majesties' arrival at both Calgary and the mountain resort. He got one good picture of Their Majesties during their stay at Banff when they rode past him in their car on the way to see the scenic grandeur of the Rockies.

President A. Balloch voiced the pleasure of the members in having Mr. and Mrs. Elkington as the club's guests and for the very enjoyable three quarters of an hour Mr. Elkington had given the gathering with his movies.

The Journal acknowledges with thanks renewal subscriptions received during the week from Mrs. D. Davies, of Edmonton, and Mrs. M. Joyce, of Vancouver.

Lewie Llewellyn, Boer War Veteran, 82 And Still Active

Lewie Llewellyn, veteran of the Boer War and one of the few Canadians to be awarded the Kimberley Seige Star, celebrated his 82nd birthday on Feb. 3. Mr. Llewellyn, who has always been an active man, finds no handicap in his age. It does not stop him from teaching the neighborhood youngsters how to swim or taking them with him on his daily walk. He lives with his son, W. C. Llewellyn, 1002 5th Avenue N.E.

He was born in British Kaffiraria, South Africa, and at the age of 14 ran away from school to join the Royal Navy. He served with the navy for 17 years, then decided to settle in the diamond fields of South Africa. He was employed as an electrician at the De Beers diamond mines and projected on his own at the Rand River diggings.

Mr. Llewellyn took part in the eight different campaigns in South Africa, which included the Ashanti, Matabels, Zulu and Boer wars. It was for service in the Boer War that he was awarded the Kimberley Seige Star while serving with the Kimberley Seige garrison.

He came to Canada with his wife in 1906 and was employed as head electrician in the Tanis-kamin and Cobalt mines. He moved to Lethbridge district in 1910 and homesteaded there for eight years prior to moving into Lethbridge.

He was employed as a life guard at Henderson Lake, Lethbridge, for six years and was an active worker with the Boy Scouts.

Mr. Llewellyn later moved to Coleman, where he lived from 1922 to 1939. He was the district commissioner of the Boy Scouts in Crows' Nest Pass and was responsible for forming the Rover troop there. He moved to Calgary in 1939—Calgary Herald.

Mr. Llewellyn is widely and popularly known in Coleman, having resided for a number of years here before leaving for Calgary. He also resided with Mr. and Mrs. R. Johnson as their guest for many months. Mrs. Llewellyn and a son died in Coleman.

His many Coleman friends wish him still many more years of health and happiness.

Candidates Given Acclamation To Council and School Board; One Vacancy Remains In Council

To Hold Nomination Day Next Monday to Receive Nominations to Fill Vacant Position; Wm. White Given Acclamation to Municipal Hospital Board.

Little interest was evinced by the ratepayers as a whole in nominating candidates to fill vacancies in council and school board. As a result all candidates were given acclamation to office. As a result of Councillor Frank Aboussafy resigning from the council two weeks ago in order to contest the mayoralty a vacancy remains on the council.

At a council meeting on Monday evening council appointed A. Balloch as Returning Officer to preside at the town office next Monday, Feb. 12, between the hours of 11 a.m. and 12 noon, to receive nominations for the council vacancy.

John Ramsay and Fred Cox, who had just completed a three-year term, were re-elected to the council by acclamation.

On the school board Chairman George Evans and John McNeill, who had completed two-year terms, were sent back to office by acclamation. Norman Ash was also elected to the school board, succeeding Mack Stigler, who declined re-nomination. This is Mr. Ash's first venture into the municipal political arena.

Following are the list of candidates and their sponsors in brackets:

For Mayor: F. Aboussafy (J. Ramsay, F. Antrobus, G. Derbyshire).

For Councillor: J. Ramsay (J. Atkinson, W. White); F. Cox (J. Atkinson, W. White).

For School Trustees: G. Evans (W. White, J. Ramsay); J. McNeill (J. Atkinson, W. White); N. H. Ash (J. Atkinson, W. White).

For the first time nominations were received for the Crows' Nest Pass Municipal Hospital District No. 40 board, on which Coleman was given acclamation to office on the board, succeeding ex-Mayor F. Antrobus, who declined re-nomination.

Before Sunday's pee wee hockey two high school teams with players of the fair sex displayed their wares. With the little opportunity that they've had to practice, the teams showed sufficient flashes of clever stickhandling and passing to convince the spectators that in the very near future the so-called weaker sex will play hockey of a very high calibre. The final score was Spitfires 1, Bombers 0. Shirley Hulbert scored the goal for the winners.

COLEMAN JUVENILE-JUNIORS 5, MICHEL 4

Playing at the Coleman arena on Thursday, Feb. 1, Coleman juveniles defeated Michel intermediates 5-4. Coleman assumed a 4-0 lead in the first period, but numerous penalties proved costly and Michel evened the score in the second period. On Sunday, Feb. 4, Coleman juveniles scored a one-sided 8-2 victory over the Bellevue juvenile-juniors. Goal scorers for Coleman were Kryzka 3, Kovack 2, Gettman 1, Ford 1, Ernie Lant 1.

A Land Of Opportunity

IN THE PAST, CANADA HAS PROVED to be, for many people, a land of opportunity. Our great railway systems were built, and our rich farming and mining districts opened up, by men who had confidence in the future of the country. The difficult times experienced during the drought and depression of the "thirties" caused some to doubt whether there were any longer many possibilities for advancement here, but the manner in which we have met the demands made by the war upon our energies and resources, has demonstrated that we should be able to deal equally well with peace-time needs. One of the greatest of these needs will be to provide opportunities for the many thousands of men and women who will be returning to civilian life, and for the generation now growing up in Canada.

May Have Hope For The Future

There are many reasons why we may face the future with confidence and hope. We have been fortunate in escaping the devastation suffered by many nations through bombing and other forms of enemy attack, and Canada is one of the few countries that can revert to peace-time conditions with industries, resources and communications intact. Because of the needs of war, most of our industries and resources have been expanded, and intensive research and invention have led to many new developments. Canada has also expanded considerably as a world power during the war years. We now rank third among the United Nations in sea power, and fourth in the world in air power. In addition, Canada's geographic position has made her an important factor in assisting with the establishment of a closer relationship and better understanding between Great Britain and the United States.

Supplies Many Needs

There are still many possibilities in Canada for the opening up of new lands for mining and farming, of extending communications and of developing great supplies of hydro-electric power. It is also apparent that we hold an important position in relation to world airways of the future, and that this will lead to many new developments here. In a recent bulletin published by the Royal Bank of Canada, it is pointed out that although there are only a little over eleven million people here, making up but a small proportion of the total world population, we have, by industry and initiative achieved a leading place in the production of many of the world's needs. In addition, we have maintained a sound economic standing, both at home and in international financial markets. The bulletin observes that "it is not what we did yesterday but what we do tomorrow that makes for greatness." Much has been accomplished in the past, but Canada is still a land of opportunity for those who have confidence in her many potentialities.

HOW YOU CAN GET QUICK RELIEF FROM SORE, PAINFUL PILES

Most people seem to think the only way to get relief from their sore, painful piles is to get relief from their sore, painful piles. Not The Time

Victim Of Bombing Did Not Consider Bombing As Emergency

Immense stories are told round stores of Civil Defence Headquarters in London suburbs of amazing fortitude by victims of the enemy bombs. Perhaps one of the best, and a perfectly authentic one, is of the elderly woman in Balham, who was finally rescued from the ruins of her small home by a hefty gang of tough but sympathetic navvies. Seeing the old lady was in rather a bad way, one of the latter, noticing a bottle of whiskey that had luckily escaped the domestic debacle, suggested that she should have a good nip. Whereon the victim protested feebly but volubly: "Ere, leave that bottle alone—it's for an emergency!"

Eye Shields

Arahs In Middle East Use These As A Protective Measure

Thousands of Arahs in the Middle East desert are wearing cellulose acetate transparent eye-shields originally supplied to British troops of the 8th, 9th and 10th Armies. Hundreds of millions of these shields have been produced in Britain, originally to protect the eyes of soldiers and A.R.P. workers against poison gas. In the Middle East they have proved invaluable as a protection for the eyes against sand, dust, flies and the glare of the sun, both for soldiers and civilians. The shields are particularly valuable in saving Arab children from the eye infections common in the desert.

B. X. Plastics, Limited, the British firm most prominently associated with their development and manufacture, considers that an important post-war market has been created in the Middle East and also the Far East for this British wartime commodity.

FIRE RESISTANT PAINT

Two fire-resistant paints for ship use have come out of the war so far. One of them, for use mainly on steel, will discolor but will not burn when brought into contact with flame. The second goes a step further and actually acts as a fire extinguisher, by giving off a fire-smothering vapor when exposed to flames. It is used largely for the protection of the woodwork of a ship.

Price Control And Rationing Information

Q—May we sell rationed commodities, such as honey or home-made preserves, donated by a consumer, at our church bazaar without collecting coupons?

A—You must first apply to your local ration board for authority to sell rationed commodities at church sales and this application must be made before the bazaar.

Q—If my tenants are more than 15 days behind their rent, how much notice must I give them?

A—Rentals regulations protect good tenants only. These tenants may be given notice to vacate under the law of the Province.

Q—I am farming and need a supply of small arms ammunition. My certificate of sale expired at the end of the year. How do I go about having it reissued?

A—Apply to the local ration board which approved the original certificate.

Q—I am a farmer's wife and keep our own family supplied with butter. Is it necessary for me to turn in butter coupons to cover the butter consumed?

A—Every butter producer, whether the butter is used for home consumption only or sold to butter customers, must turn in coupons to the local ration board to cover the butter consumed or sold as the case may be. These coupons are to be turned in every month.

Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Consumers' News" or the Blue Book in which you keep track of your ceiling prices, mentioning the name of this paper to the nearest Wartime Prices and Trade Board office in your province.

Hitler's Pet Soldier

Marshal Rommel Was Great Gambler, Says Field Marshal Smut

It is somewhat surprising to find Field Marshal Rommel, who at the age of 53 died of wounds, described in the "Times" as a brilliant tactician. Field Marshal Smut's description of this typical German military thug as a great gambler rather than a great soldier will certainly be endorsed by the best critic of all, Field Marshal Sir Bernard Montgomery. The only military successes achieved by Rommel, the tank thrust that broke the French front at Mawbeuge and cut off our 6th Division at St. Valery and the North African counter-attack that threw our 8th Army right back to El Alamein, were won by overwhelming advantage of mechanical and artillery equipment. Rommel was badly worsted in every tactical manoeuvre where conditions were more or less equal, and finally defeated his Africa Corps as well as his Italian allies to get back to Berlin before the Tunisian debacle.

Put An End To It! With A Pudding Dessert

To end a good square meal, choose a four-square pudding with a fluffy meringue top! Here's a grand way to use the odds and ends in the bread box, and produce a delightful dessert. It's hot, spicy—and so spectacular for its economy too.

Butter or margarine
1 cup raisins
1 cup All-Bran
2 egg yolks
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 cup All-Bran

2 egg whites
4 tablespoons sugar

Remove crusts from bread; spread with butter or margarine; cut into squares and arrange in layers in greased baking dish. Sprinkle each layer with raisins and All-Bran. Cover with meringue made from two beaten egg whites and 4 tablespoons sugar. Bake in slow oven (300 degrees F.) about 20 minutes or until meringue is brown.

The Color Trend

Is Used As A Definite Aid To Medical Science

The trend toward the use of color as a definite aid to medical science in modern hospitals is exemplified in the internal color scheme of Canada's newest hospital ship, the Letitia, hailed as one of the largest and most modernly equipped hospital ships afloat.

There was a time—and not so long ago at that—when plain white paint was considered the only correct thing for hospital wards and corridors. In recent years, however, the trend has been away from white and much research has gone into the choosing of the colors that are to replace it.

That research finds its expression in the Letitia, just as it does in an increasing number of hospitals across Canada and to an even more marked extent in the United States.

So it is that the Letitia sails the sea today with her cargo of wounded soldiers lying, not in the pitiless glare of all-white surroundings, but in wards of soft green. They find the color more restful and more cheerful.

The seventeen wards of the Letitia are done in light green, and the corridors of the ship are finished in a darker green by way of contrast. The men who chose that color scheme knew that there is more than the physical side to consider when making people well. They knew that the mental attitude of the patient plays a part in his recovery too.

Even the ceilings of the Letitia's wards have been divorced from the traditional white. Instead, they are finished in a less glaring and more agreeable light paint.

The color scheme of many modern hospitals have gone further than that of the Letitia. While light and dark greens are the predominant note in the hospital ship, many shore establishments now have rooms—private and public—finished in warm creams, yellows, or coral and peach. Soft greys and greyed-down versions of other colors have been found soothing and suggestive of sleep.

As Dr. C. Harvey Agnew, secretary of the department of hospital services, Canadian Medical Association, has put it, color is an item of "major importance" in the psychological treatment of a patient. It is realized now that not only can correctly chosen colors promote serenity of mind, restfulness and cheerfulness, but certain colors can be utilized to produce specific emotions and reactions on the part of the patient.

The Letitia, of course, is designed to be a short-term resting place for the wounded men she hurries across the ocean to home. For that reason, her color scheme is one aimed at raising the highest general utility, without going too deeply into the various color combinations and schemes designed for particular cases.

SOCKS WILL NOT SHRINK

The Quartermaster Shop has developed a simple shrink preventive treatment for woolen socks that will it is thought, be applicable to all woolen fabrics, officials of the Kansas City Quartermaster Depot announced recently. The treatment has been used, up to date, only for socks, but preliminary tests indicate that it also will be practical in making other wool or part-wool fabrics non-shrinkable.

UNITED STATES TROOPS ENTER MANILA AND LIBERATE A LARGE NUMBER OF INTERNED CIVILIANS

SOUTHWEST PACIFIC ADVANCE. COMMAND. United States troops reached the heart of Manila and raised the American flag over the Philippine capital for the first time in more than three years.

Troops of the hard-hitting 1st Cavalry division, in a wide encircling move by dark, entered the city against harassing sniper fire and quickly captured Malacanán palace, former residence of American governors-general, and the large Santo Tomas concentration camp where thousands of British and American civilians were interned.

Russell Brines, an Associated Press war correspondent, with the 1st Cavalry, said 3,000 Santo Tomas internees were liberated.

They were mostly American women and children interned there since May 1, 1942. Brines said "room by room" fighting occurred within the former university.

(President Roosevelt messaged President Sergio Osmeña of the Philippines that "The American people rejoice with me in the liberation of your capital." He warned the Japanese that "their world of treachery, aggression and enslavement cannot survive." The message was made public at the White House.)

The northern half of Manila, "Pearl of the Orient," was in American hands as elements of the 1st Cavalry and 37th Infantry division, the latter entering from the north, pressed for the knockout.

The Japanese in the northern part of the city offered no major stand, but explosions were heard and fires were seen south of the wide and deep Pasig river barrier which splits the city in two.

Study Being Made Of War Equipment Used By Japs

HULL, Que. A big cement garage here is holding enough German-Japanese war equipment to dent Allied drives in Europe and the Pacific, defence headquarters said in a press release.

Ordnance intelligence men gathered the collection, ranging from tanks and armored cars to small arms, strewn behind retreating enemy armies in various theatres. Ordnance, electrical and mechanical engineers, munitions experts and research scientists are using the display to study enemy equipment. Officer-students from Brockville, Ont., are sent to view at first hand the sort of weapons they will face on the battlefields.

REPORT ON MAGNITUDE OF NAVAL OPERATIONS IN THE ALLIED UNDERTAKING ON D-DAY

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Paris. Magnitude of naval participation in the gigantic Allied undertaking on D-day, last June 6, when British, Canadian and United States troops poured ashore on the beaches of Normandy to re-open landfighting in western Europe, was disclosed in a special review of Allied naval operations for the period ended Dec. 31.

More than 125,000 officers and men of the Allied navies were in action in the channel and ashore that day, it was reported, while supplementing them were nearly 60,000 officers and men of the Allied merchant fleets.

As the great Allied armadas plowed back and forth across the straits, more than 2,200,000 troops had been landed in France by the 100th day of the invasion, supplied with 450,000 vehicles and nearly 4,000,000 tons of stores.

One of the highlights of the naval part of the western Europe campaign was the clearing of the Scheldt approaches to the great Belgian port of Antwerp which the report called "the third largest port in the world."

The 73-mile stretch of mine-strewn water was swept after 1st Canadian Army troops had seized its banks and islands lying in its mouth in one of the hardest, bloodiest episodes of ground-fighting over difficult terrain of the entire western front campaign.

Two hundred Allied minesweepers completed the task by Nov. 28.

During the seven months covered by the report, Allied ships moved

WERE GREAT HELP

Indians Volunteered To Assist In Harvesting Prairie Grain Crop
OTTAWA. — Arthur MacNamara, director of national selective service, said Canadian Indians played an important part in the harvesting of the 1944 prairie grain crop.

In Saskatchewan, more than 3,500 men from local reserves volunteered to help with harvesting when their own farm operations were completed. Mr. MacNamara said. Officials of the Indians Affairs branch reported that had it not been for the Indians in some areas the threshing would probably have had to be finished in the spring.

Many of the Indians in Manitoba live north of the grain growing districts, and it was necessary to send a special agent to the reserves north of Lake Winnipeg to recruit harvest help.

In August 903 Indians were brought south to help with the grain harvest. The volunteers worked 12,024 days—an average of 20.6 days a man—for which they received $48,000 in wages.

MANY INVENTIONS

Swedish Paper Published Large Number Of German Patent Applications

STOCKHOLM. — An organized flight of German capital to Sweden is developing by the placement of inventions here, the newspaper Expressen said.

A large number of German patent applications appeared in the latest issue of Sweden's official Gazette and the newspaper said at least 50 per cent. of all applications on hand in the Swedish patent office were of German origin. The applications are mostly in connection with Germany's big automobile, chemical and camera industries.

NEW YORK. — The Duke of Gloucester, brother of King George VI, was sworn in at Canberra as governor-general and commander-in-chief of the commonwealth of Australia. The brief ceremony took place in the senate chamber, where the oaths of office were administered by Chief Justice Sir John Latham, the Australian news and information bureau said.

GERMAN PRISONERS FALL SOWING CUT

Said To Have Been Sentenced To Death By Court-Martial

NEW YORK. — Newsweek Magazine says in its Feb. 5 issue that five German prisoners of war have been sentenced to death by court-martial for killing a fellow prisoner at Camp Tonkawa, Okla., Nov. 5, 1943.

The five non-commissioned officers, the magazine says, "proudly admitted" at their trial that they killed Cpl. Johann Kunze.

Newsweek said other prisoners at the camp regarded Kunze "a traitor to the Reich and to the Fuehrer" because "some of them had seen a statement Kunze had given American army officers—information they believed had been of great value to the Allies in bombing Hamburg."

FEWER STRIKES

OTTAWA. — The labor department said that on the basis of preliminary figures working time lost through strikes and lockouts during 1944 was 51.8 per cent. less than in 1943.

France Needs Fast Growing Wheat Seed For Spring Planting

PARIS. — The French minister of agriculture has told the British United Press that France faces an acute wheat shortage this year, one which he says will seriously imperil the bread ration.

According to agriculture officials, the tide of battle that swept over France together with torrential rains and floods cut the fall sowing to some five million acres—less than half the pre-war average.

The minister has asked the Allies to send 60,000 tons of fast growing Manitoba wheat seed from Canada for spring planting. In exchange he would hand over an equal quantity of wheat for Allied armies.

SPECIFIC TERMS FOR GERMANS AFTER THEIR SURRENDER IS SAID TO BE WAITING APPROVAL

LONDON. — Disclosure that a fully fashioned "instrument of surrender" awaits only final big-three approval was interpreted in London as heralding a major psychological as well as military drive to bring about Germany's capitulation.

An authoritative source announced that specific terms for the Germans after their surrender had been initiated by representatives of the United States, British and Soviet Russia.

Simultaneously came word that Prime Minister Churchill was taking to the conference with President Roosevelt and Premier Stalin a concrete British plan for four-power rule over the Reichland and the Ruhr believed to imply creation of a separate political and economic entity. France would share in this measure with Britain, Russia and the United States.

There was no specific assurance that the "instrument of surrender" would be the basis for a new call to the Germans to overthrow Hitler, but it appeared an obvious possibility.

It seemed certain that the three chiefs of state would give the instrument a high spot on the conference agenda.

British and American planes have been showering Germans for several days with leaflets explaining "unconditional surrender."

This activity followed Mr. Churchill's "surrender-now" appeal in the House of Commons last week, which explained that the Germans would not be annihilated if they overthrow Hitler. British radios beamed excerpts of the prime minister's speech to the continent in German.

In this respect there was a growing possibility that the Allies might tell the Germans more of what to expect in order to offset Goebbels' declaration that "unconditional surrender" means annihilation or slavery. Critics on both sides of the Atlantic long have contended that the term was too broad.

Allied zones of occupation also are on the big three agenda. President Roosevelt is understood to propose that American troops, in addition to occupying northwest Germany, should share with British and Russian forces in the occupation of Austria.

France also is understood to have asked permission to share in the Austrian occupation. The informant said it was believed Mr. Roosevelt, Premier Stalin and Mr. Churchill agreed to this.

CALCUTTA. — Denunciation of restrictions on the Indian press and protest for Indian editors who fought them were made at the opening general session of the All-Indian newspaper editors' conference.

DIFFERENT VIEWS

President Roosevelt May Take Definite Program To Conference

LONDON. — President Roosevelt will go to the Big Three conference with a definite program which, in some respects, will differ markedly from the arrangements made to date by both Premier Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill. This is the view expressed in London political circles as a result of the brief stay of Harry Hopkins, former lend-lease administrator and advisor to Mr. Roosevelt.

It is claimed that the views expressed by Mr. Hopkins leave no doubt that Mr. Roosevelt will veto any proposals for the establishment in Europe of what is called totalitarian governments of either the right or of the left.

This veto will be extended to apply to the present layout of the Lublin committee in Poland and also to the Marshal Tito in Yugoslavia, while more information will be sought by the president about the nature of the governments in Bulgaria, Rumania and Hungary.

Mr. Roosevelt, it is said in London, will also express dissatisfaction at the present state of affairs in Italy and Greece.

President Roosevelt's trump card in these negotiations will be the large loans that will be required by the Soviet Union and other Allies for the reconstruction period.

MAY BE SURPLUS

Experts Have Been Discussing Post-War Supply Of Rubber

WASHINGTON. — British, American and Dutch rubber experts forecast a possible world surplus of about 1,300,000 tons of rubber a year three or four years after the liberation of the East Indies and the Malaya. This is precisely the world capacity for producing synthetic rubber which they estimated for after the war.

However, the report was fairly optimistic on the possibilities of avoiding the extensive competition that brought the price of rubber down to three or four cents a pound in the past.

FREE BELGIUM

It Is Now No Longer An Enemy Country

WASHINGTON. — Belgium was removed from the class of "enemy territory" by the United States treasury, effective last Saturday, and business communications were restored with that country.

At the same time postal service between the United States and Belgium was resumed on a "closed-letter" basis. Heretofore only open post cards could be sent.

The action does not unfreeze Belgian assets in the United States.

RETURNING TO MOSCOW

MOSCOW. — The British ambassador to Russia, Sir Archibald Clark Kerr, is returning to Moscow after an extended stay in London, it was disclosed here. The Soviet ambassadors to the United States and Britain were reported to be still in Moscow.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE BOOKS

The importance of keeping your unemployment insurance book safely was emphasized by the Unemployment Insurance Commission. It was apparent, the commission stated, that a great many insured workers failed completely to appreciate the value of their books. As a consequence, hundreds of these books were lost or destroyed.

Loss of an insurance book might not seem important to a worker while employment was plentiful and times good, but it would be serious if he or she had to apply for benefit. The insurance book was the only record of current contributions. It was the worker's proof that he had contributed and was, therefore, entitled to draw benefit on the basis of his contributions.

The commission urged workers to keep track of their books carefully. When employed, the book is retained by the employer. If an employee becomes separated from employment, the book should be given to him by the employer. When he registers as unemployed and applies for benefit, he should bring his book to the employment office. Books should be turned in to the employment office at the end of each fiscal year, or after March 31.

AN IMPORTANT PRINCIPAL OF UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

The unemployment insurance fund now amounts to more than $250,000,000. This was announced Feb. 1 by the Unemployment Insurance Commission.

In making the announcement, the commission emphasized that co-operation is the keynote of unemployment insurance. Through the co-operation of employers, employees and the government, the unemployment insurance fund has been built up. Administration of the plan is in the hands of a commission of three men, the chairman selected by the government, one member appointed after consultation with employee organizations and the other member appointed on the recommendation of employer organizations.

The commission is advised respecting insurance matters by a committee, the membership of which was chosen in a similar manner. A national employment committee, five regional and 48 local employment committees advise on matters concerning employment. On all these committees, employers and employees have equal representation. Thus, the important principal of co-operation is maintained throughout.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

Louis J. Trotter, chief commissioner, has emphasized that unemployment insurance in Canada is not merely a "war measure". Misunderstanding, he said, exists in respect to some of the basic facts about unemployment insurance. For example, some people are under the impression that unemployment insurance is effective only for the duration of the war. This is, of course, not so. Unemployment insurance is carried on under an act of parliament. It is a permanent institution and will probably expand to include additional classes of non-insured workers as time goes on.

Another misapprehension respecting unemployment insurance is the plan. "Just another tax" is a phrase applied sometimes to these essential contributions. The phrase is inaccurate respecting unemployment insurance contributions. Contributions of workers, as well as employers, go to swell a fund from which benefits are paid in times of unemployment. To this fund the government also contributes, in addition to paying all administration costs.

Finally, the chief commissioner emphasized that benefits paid are not, in any sense, "relief." A worker who has qualified for benefit is entitled to it. He receives it as a right. He has made the required contributions to the fund, has complied with the regulations and can claim benefit as a result of his participation in the plan.

Soldiers' Letters

Italy.

The Journal:

Just a few lines to let you know that all's O.K. and that I have just finished a well earned 7-day rest leave.

The chief place I visited was Florence, a marvelous place and ancient in all respects. I was all through the church and it is really beautiful and with the aid of a guide we saw many other historical places and antiques. I lived with an Italian family during my stay and was treated royally, and began to pick up the language well.

This place compares a lot to England in respect to language. Everywhere you go they change the dialect. It seems every country is "poco" different.

One morning there was a sign up in the club calling for volunteers to go on an educational tour to Pisa. I joined this army for adventure and victory so I figured I would make the best out of it. It is very cold and snowy out here, but nevertheless I rode in the back of a truck for 140 miles return and just about froze. I found it was well worth it for with a guide we saw the lovely church and the ancient walls of Pisa and a most historical cemetery.

The main attraction was the leaning tower. Everyone was charged a small fee, 10 lire, which is approximately a dime. I bought a few postcards of the tower and I enclose two of them as they give a perfect view of the structure as well as reference to it.

We circled up and up the narrow stairs until reaching the bells, where we rested. There are five bells in all, each varying in size and averaging about three tons. Each bell rings separately and have long levers to pull on. One bell swung towards me and picked me off my feet. Ten of us, two to a bell, had them all ringing and it's an experience I will never forget. After all the excitement I walked to the very top rail and it was all right looking over the high side, but when I looked over the low side I'd "ad it." Yes, sir, I was glad to get my feet on the ground again and to this minute I am still wondering why it does not fall.

Well, I'll say "cheerio" to all and we will be back this year.

L. A. Caroe.

Theatre Notes

Paramount's record of successive hits continues with "Double Indemnity," which opened last night at the Palace theatre. In the three top roles are Barbara Stanwyck, Fred MacMurray and Edward G. Robinson.

This picture, adapted from James Cain's best-seller of the same title, is the story of an insurance salesman and a wily siren who attempt to collect insurance on a murdered man. It's tense drama from beginning to end. The undercurrent of suspense keeps audiences glued to their seats as the amazing story unravels piece by piece.

"Double Indemnity" tells how MacMurray, as a top-flight insurance salesman, takes the wrong road to plot the murder of Miss Stanwyck's husband, played by Tom Powers. Together, Fred and Barbara work out the hideous plan, carry it through, and then fall victims to their own consciences. Through it all, Robinson, as claims manager for the insurance company, investigates the strange death, thought to be an accident, and arrives at the correct solution after his "sixth" sense guides him to the murderers.

WEDDINGS

ROOT—MCINNES

A very quiet wedding took place in St. Cyril's church, Bellevue, on Monday, Jan. 22, when Isabella
Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
William McInnes, of Bellevue, became the bride of Pte. Raymond Gray Root, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Jasper Root, of Coleman. Rev. Pa-ther A. Anderson conducted the ceremony.

Escorted by her father, the bride entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March played by her niece, Frances Mis-son. The bride was dressed in a green flecked tweed suit with brown accessories and wore a corsage of pink rose buds, and carrying a white prayer book.

Patricia McInnes, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Jack Root, brother of the groom, was best man.

Rev. Father Cherron, of Car-dston, took many moving pictures of the church ceremony.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where about 100 relatives and friends sat down to a turkey supper. The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake. Toasts to the bride were proposed by Fathers
Anderson and Cherron and responded to by the groom.

The happy couple have left for Calgary where the groom is stationed.

Theatre Notes

"Going My Way" Great With Crosby as Singing Priest

A combination hard to surpass resulted in one of this season's finest pictures being shown at the Palace theatre on Saturday, where Paramount's "Going My Way" arrives in a blaze of glory. The combination consists of a superb story, delicate direction by Leo Mc-Carey, who also produced the film, and a pair of screen priests in the persons of Bing Crosby and Barry Fitzgerald.

Perhaps the most remarkable thing about "Going My Way" is its simplicity. In the warm, moving characterizations by all members of the cast, pathos, comedy and whimsical humor play a large part.

Rise Stevens, Metropolitan Opera star, lends her singing talents with a rendition of the "Habanera" aria from Carmen, while the Robert Mitchell chorus joins her and Bing in several choral numbers.

The delight of theatre patrons proved to be Barry Fitzgerald. As Father Fitzgibbon, founder of a small parish, his little world of peace and serenity is rudely interrupted by financial difficulties. But along comes Bing (Father "Chuck" O'Malley) who immediately sets out to remedy the situation. He does just that, too, but oft-times his measures are seemingly a bit modern and drastic to Fitzgerald.
Bing organizes a boys' chorus from the neighborhood gang, sanctions a love match between Jean Heather and James Brown, sells an original song to a music publisher and winds up by clearing the parish of debt.

Three new songs by Johnny Burke and Jimmy van Heusen are already in the top popularity bracket—"Going My Way," "The Day After Tomorrow" and "Swinging on a Star." Other immortal melodies sung are "Ave Maria," "Adeste Fidelis" and "Silent Night."

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Someone Else

— By —

MARY C. MACKAY

McClure Newspaper Syndicate

Freddy had always thought he had this love business figured out. It just meant having a girl like Kay, with whom you always felt comfortable, who understood talk about engines or new suits, who would help fix the windshield wiper when it stuck.

Now he wasn't so sure. If that was love, what was this he had? He wiped his forehead. Whew, one sure thing it wasn't the measles.

Jeanie didn't know a nut from a bolt, but when he was with her he could hardly differentiate between them himself. All he could see was a pair of sea-green eyes and a freckled nose.

That was another funny thing. He remembered when, during his last leave, he had said to Kay: "You know, Kay, I wouldn't mind you going out with fellows now and again while I'm away. But Jimmy Randolph, why, he's so far beneath you! Besides, he's a funny looking guy, and you're very beautiful," he had stammered, looking at Kay's lovely complexion, her soft golden curls. It was the first time he had ever told her she was beautiful.

She had looked at him queerly with her dark eyes. "Freddy, dear, I think you're making a mistake. You don't love people for what they are or what they look like. I love you, because you're you." Then with a twinkle in her eyes she added, "I don't even love you any better now since you've grown so handsome, than I did when you were nine years old and hadn't any front teeth."

"Aw, quit kidding, Kay," Freddie had said, red in the face. "You know what I mean. Let's forget Jimmy Randolph anyway, and talk about us." He reached in his pocket and drew out a small square box.

Opening it slowly, he whispered, "Kay, I'd like to think of your wearing this while I'm away. It'll be sort of an understanding. Will you wear it, Kay?"

Kay's eyes had misted. "Freddie, are you sure? Perhaps you'll meet someone else."

"No, there will be no one else."

How sure he had been.

Kay had kissed him. "Promise me one thing, Freddie. Remember you asked me last leave for a picture of myself to put in your folder? Well, I'll put one in for you. But I want you to promise me faithfully, Freddie, that you won't take it out, until — you've met someone else. And when you do, just take out the picture and put hers in. You can send mine back to me and I'll know I'm to send the ring back."

He had smiled. "I promise."

It had seemed ridiculous then that he should ever want to take the picture out. He picked up the little case now and looked into Kay's dark eyes. She smiled out at him. He set the folder up against his lamp, and ran his fingers through his hair. Kay belonged right there and yet he had promised. What was he to do?

He had met someone else, someone he wanted so badly he couldn't sleep or eat. Someone with a small freckled nose and a little twisted smile. He groaned as he glanced at Kay's face again. If she were only here, he could talk it over with her, she'd understand and help him. She had always helped him out of difficulties. To take her picture out and send it back seemed so cruel. No, he couldn't do that, but Kay's honest eyes seemed to say, "Remember the promise."

Jeanie's pert little face wouldn't look right in the folder anyway. It belonged right where it was, in the beautiful little frame on his table.

He couldn't understand it. He knew he loved Kay the same as he had always loved her, because, well — just because she was Kay. It was a warm, comfortable love. This was so different. This was a burning ache for someone, and when he saw that someone the world became a place of magic. The merest phrase was as beautiful as that of a poet. The world was full of love and laughter, with only two inhabitants, his Jeanie and him.

He picked up the folder and the frame. Jeanie's picture could be fitted in easily enough, but it wouldn't look right. He knew it wouldn't, but just to prove it he had he'd try it. Grinly he loosened the back part and lifting Kay's picture he drew a small folded piece of paper.

Opening it, he read in Kay's dainty writing: "Dear Freddie I knew you were making a mistake, because I love you exactly the way you love me. I just knew that isn't the way I love Jimmy Randolph. I wanted to tell you this when you gave me the ring, but I couldn't because I knew I'd hurt you so. Besides, you were going away. I always want to be free to love you as a pal, but I know now that Jimmy is the one I want to marry. I'll be true to you until you read this, because then you will have found someone else. So now that you've found her, I hope she is worthy of the best pal a girl ever had."

"Lots of love, and luck
"KAY"

A great peace stole over Freddy and the world slowly settled down around him again. He replaced Kay's picture in the little folder slowly. Then he picked up Jeanie's. He kissed it reverently and said with his heart almost choking him: "I knew Kay would fix it up for us."

IN OTHER WORDS

Leonard Lyons in the New York Post, says Kenneth Galbraith, the former deputy O.P.A. Administrator, and now an editor of Fortune, is one of the tallest men who ever held a government post. He's 6 feet 8. To the frequent inquiry, "Just how tall are you?" Galbraith replies: "I'm not as tall as you think. I'm only 5 feet 20."

INCREASES RICE ACREAGE

As a result of the "Grow More Food" campaign in India, the acreage under rice has increased by nearly 6½ million during the war — from 73.8 million acres in 1939, to 80 million acres now.

Cost Will Be Heavy

But Allies Firm in Their Demand
For Unconditional Surrender

The majority of people will, we believe, endorse Prime Minister Churchill's reiteration in Parliament that "the war will be prolonged until unconditional surrender has been obtained." The phrase, "unconditional surrender," has been criticized in the past on the ground that it only acted as a spur to the Germans to resist to the bitter end. Perhaps so, but the Nazis have proven themselves the kind of ferocious, unrelenting people who would fight to the end any way, and we do not believe that they would agree to any terms of peace that did not let them get away with some of their ill-gotten gains, and leave them in a position to prepare for World War No. 3. So it simply must be unconditional surrender in order that terms can be imposed upon them which will thwart either of these two hopes.

Everybody admits today that the Allies made a tragic mistake when they refrained from going on to Berlin in 1918 and occupying Germany and supervising her heavy industries instead of stopping at the Saar for a limited time. The cost of going on will be heavy in lives, suffering and money, but it must be done if the next and succeeding generations are not to suffer worse than the present one. — St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Camera Identification

North Battleford Constable Makes
An Important Discovery

Constable R. Anthony of the North Battleford police force has the approval of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and the United States Federal Bureau of Investigation for his method of identifying a camera through the marks it leaves on a negative.

He was investigating the theft of a camera two years ago and located a camera answering the description, but found scores of others also in the city were exactly the same in appearance. He asked the owner to bring negatives made with the stolen camera and he found that variations in the negatives from the camera he had located were identical.

Constable Anthony then built up an improvised laboratory at home and filed scores of negatives used in other cameras loaned him by friends. From these negatives he compiled a brief on his method of camera identification.

Goes Long Distance

Arctic Tern Probably Travels Farther
Than Any Other Bird

The champion traveler of the bird world is probably the Arctic tern, a small, white, gull-like bird. Metal bands have been attached to the legs of nestlings in Labrador and the grown birds recaptured a few months later at the mouth of the Niger River in West Africa and in Natal on the Indian Ocean coast of South Africa nearly 9,000 miles from Labrador. And the Arctic tern is found in the Antarctic during our winter. It is well known as a seasonal migrant up and down the western seaboard of both Europe and Africa. From this it has been inferred that this species migrates from Arctic America across the North Atlantic to Europe, thence down the coast past Africa to the Antarctic Ocean, and back up the same route the following spring — a distance in all, of about 24,000 miles, or almost equivalent to the total circumference of the earth.

Deserves Better Name

Lancaster Bomber "M2" Has Had
Most Remarkable Career

Sailors have a habit of speaking of some veteran liner as "The Grand Old Lady of the Atlantic," as in the case of the first Mauretania. Railroaders speak affectionately of some old locomotive which has had decades of service, calling it by some such name as "Old Granny." The Royal Air Force has a Lancaster known as "M2" that surely deserves a more picturesque name.

"M2" has made 97 bombing trips to Germany, five to Italy and 37 to other targets on the continent, a total of 139 bombing trips. During that time she consumed 193,800 gallons of gasoline, and flew 969 operational hours.

This veteran of aerial operations must have been shot at and hit many times. She must have been in many hot spots, but she laid her "eggs" and brought her crews back safely every time. It is extraordinary to think of the fact that she had been in every one of her 139 trips they would still all be alive.

She is what seamen would call "a happy ship." — St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Should Be Careful

Very Few Adults Are Physically
Able To Shovel Snow

The question of who should shovel snow from the sidewalk is not one of sex or civility, but of heart and muscles. Dr. Francis E. Fronczak, Buffalo City Health Commissioner, said:

"Actually few adults are physically fit for the arduous task of removing snow," he asserted. Emphasizing the number of persons overcome while shoveling snow during the recent blizzard, Dr. Fronczak said:

"If the wife puts in a goodly share of her time scrubbing floors, washing walls and wrestling the wash, she may be in better condition to move snowbanks than her husband who sits in an office all day."

Elderly persons and those physically soft should shoveling snow because "snow shoveling can cause death by acute dilation of the heart."

Made Good Stove

One W.A.A.F. Cook Built Stoves
Around A Blow Torch

W.A.A.F. cooks at forward fighter stations overseas, which were so heavily attacked were bombed time and again out of their cook-houses. One girl who was attached to a motor transport section of the R.A.F., cooked for the unit on a blow-lamp, having ingeniously contrived a stove of bricks built around the flame. Every now and then with minutes she had to cease stirring, her buckets and dive for her life into the nearest dugout, when "Jerry" swooped overhead machine-gunning and bombing the site, pieces of shrapnel raining into the food she was preparing.

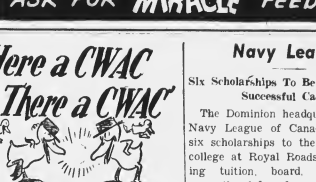

John Ruskin went to the British Museum and looked at the penguin exhibit whenever he felt downhearted; this exhibit always made him laugh.

Situation Changed

British Columbia Now Importing
Instead Of Exporting Coal

British Columbia is importing more than one-third of the coal it consumes whereas 35 or 40 years ago it was exporting coal, it was revealed by Hon. E. C. Carson, provincial minister of mines.

B.C. mines produced 1,843,326 tons of coal in 1944 compared with 1943 output of 1,821,654 tons.

James Dickenson, chief inspector of mines, estimated imports from Alberta in 1944 totalled more than 1,000,000 tons, compared with 1943 imports totalling 960,000 tons.
